[TRANSLATED FOR THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.]

—There are at present in the city of St. Petersburg, Russia, 591 manufactories, of which 245 are situated outside the city lines. Their annual production is altogether valued at sixty-two million rubles. There are sugar fineries, brandy distilleries, breweries, candle and soap boilers, tanneries, rope walks, saw mills, tobacco factories, etc. The city of St. Petersburg will soon enjoy a telegraph, which will transmit official and private dispatches through all the district and suburbs of the city. Fourteen stations in the inner town and two in the adjacent environs are to be erected. A dispatch of twenty words will cost forty copeks. Paper and stamps for telegrams will be sold throughout the city.

—A movement is on foot to bridge the Bosphorus. The designs of the work have been executed by the Austrian engineer and director of the Russia railroad. The bridge will measure 3,360 feet in length, and will rest on two pillars, one of the arches being 1,207 feet, and the two others 1,026 feet. The weight of the bridge (rough iron) will be 71,000 cwt.; that of two pillars (cast iron) 127,000 cwt. The cost is estimated at seven million florins, that is $4,200,000 in United States currency.

—The editions of the Paris cheap journals are at present as follows: The "Petit Journal" has 260,000 readers; the "Petit Moniteur" 130,000; the "Evenement" only six weeks in existence, 50,000; the Journal Pour Tour" and the Monde Illustré" over 100,000, and a great number of literary speculation papers, as the "Noteur," "Busse," Temps," "Buche," "Parisienne," which have between 20,000 and 60,000 subscribers.

—Twenty years ago, the Turkish metropolis possessed only two newspapers, the Journal de Constantinople, in the French, and the Official Moniteur, in the Turkish language. At present, twenty-seven journals are issued at Stamboul, in almost every language of the Orient. Among them is the well illustrated Redshmuai-funun, which is the favorite of the high society of the Ottoman Empire.

—The issue of postage stamps, when first introduced in France in 1849, was 19 millions; in 1866, it amounted to 450 millions The stamp office in the "Minister Imperial" at Paris, turns out daily 1 million and a half, the manufacture of which gives employment to 60 men. In England the demand for stamps is still higher; it increased last year to 900 millions.

—The art of Phonography is nowhere more extensively diffused than in Bavaria. This country can boast of twenty thousand people (among them are many representatives of the gentle sex) who are skilled in short-hand writing. The scholars who, by the last record, enjoyed gratis public tuition in this science numbered 2,281.

—Birmingham, England, manufactures every week 98,000 gross of steel pens, which represent nearly ten tons of steel. This branch of industry gives employment to 360 men and 2,050 women and girls. The price of a gross, which was in the beginning 7 frs. (25 cts.,) is now only 16 frs., (30 centimes.)

—In the year from February, 1866, to February, 1867, the number of beet sugar manufactories in Germany increased by 17 per cent. In 230 establishments 41,631,204 cwt. of beets were transformed into sugar during the year. Most of these establishments are situated in Russia, namely, 234. Brunswick ranks next with eighteen.

—The number of lead pencils annually manufactured at Herwick amounts to thirteen millions, or twenty-five thousand weekly. Some of these lead pencils are worth 60 frs. a gross, and others only 2 frs.

—Myerbeer's "L'Africaine" was repeated sixty-eight times before full audiences at the Opera House in Hamburg, and this piece has as yet lost nothing of its attractive power.

—Oil springs have been discovered in Bart Harch, in the Acruzze Mountains, (Italy,) which it is said will yield sufficient to supply the whole Peninsula.

—The city of Geneva, Switzerland, will be provided with a pneumatic railroad between the terminus and the square of St. Francis.

—The machine shop of A. Borsig, in Berlin, (Prussia) has turned out 2000 locomotives.

Three Noted Southerners.

"Mack" writes from Georgia to the Cincinnati Commercial:

"Toombs has abandoned all hope of making his slaves answer to roll-call at the foot of Bunker Hill, and has settled down into the peaceful pursuits of private life at his home in Washington, Georgia. He came out of the war tolerably well, considering the share he took in bringing it on. He has lost nothing but his slave property. He has large landed estates in Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi, and he is now diligently cultivating them with free labor. Those who know him, and have recently seen him, say that no inducements could get him into politics again. He accepts the situation, will obey the laws, and behave himself.

"Iverson, his colleague in the Senate at the outbreak of the war, is living at Macon —broken down in fortune, and bad in health, —He managed to lose all his property by the war, and now supports himself by keeping a large wood yard.

"A. H. Stephens is little seen or heard of. He is at his home at Crawfordsville, on the road between here and Augusta, practising law. His views on the reconstruction question are not known. They have been repeatedly given, but not having originated from himself, have been as repeatedly contradicted. I heard something recently in connection with the election of Mr. Stephens to the United States Senate, which I have not seen in print, and which I think ought to be published. It is this: Mr. Stephens, as is well known, did not desire to be elected. He told his friends so; but they urged it upon him General Steadman was the man who had most to do with it. He happened to be in the interior of Georgia at the time—in a military command, I think—and took great interest in the matter. Steadman telegraphed to Johnson to know if it would be advisable to elect Mr. Stephens. The President replied very decidedly in the negative, saying that Mr. Stephens was on parole, and ought not to meddle in politics at all. His advice was not taken, and Stephens was elected."

—St. Petersburg has gone wild over a French danseuse who had failed, however, to excite any particular enthusiasm at Paris. The Czar has set an example of adoration by sending her magnificent bouquets and jewels of fabulous wonder; and the nobility seek to outdo the Imperial munificence. The infection has spread through the whole population, and every night, after the curtain has dropped, the audience rush round to the porte des artistes, and hundreds of sledges, with tinkling greiots and glittering torches escort the favorite to her home. All this creates great amusement among Parisian circles where the fair danseuse met with no favor at all.

INQUIRE WITHIN.—The mouth is like a house to let. However pretty it may be externally, it is impossible to judge of its merits until you have seen the inside. If behind the ruby doors there are plenty of pearl-white fixtures, you will exclaim, at once, "how beautiful!" To impart the utmost possible brilliancy to such dental furniture—to keep it always sound and perfect—there is nothing like fragrant Sozodont. m.w.f.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

TO THE AGENT OF THE NEW YORK ASSOCIATED PRESS:

DEAR SIR: I have this afternoon received a telegram from J. C. Deane, Secretary of the United States American Telegraph Company, containing the annexed copy of a letter, which appears in the London papers of this morning, which I send you for information of the press.

Yours, very truly,
[Signed.] CYRUS W. FIELD.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE LONDON TIMES.—Sir: The uninterrupted state of telegraphic communication with America is evinced by the fact that in the course of yesterday messages passed, yielding 2,591 pounds and seven shillings. In order, however, to mitigate, as far as possible, the effect of vague and exaggerated rumors, I feel it my duty, as Chairman of this Company, to ask you to place the public in possession of the following facts, viz: On the 5th inst. it was reported that on the 4th, at 6:30 P. M. a large iceberg grounded off the harbor of Hearts Content, N. F., about one and a half miles N. N. W. of the northern point and two hundred yards east of the 1866 cable, in about sixteen fathoms of water. No danger with the present wind. On the 9th inst. it was reported the iceberg had disappeared, but on passing over the cable of 1866, it seems, however, that some damage must have been done, for signals through that cable became imperfect and have not ceased. The Cable of 1865, however, is unimpaired, and there is no reason to doubt that the injury to the cable of 1866 will be repaired without delay or considerable expense. I need only add that the capacity of the cable of 1865 exceeds the requirements of the business, great as it is, between this country and America.

I am sir, your obedient servant.

ARRIVAL OF STEAMER HANSA.

London Times on the Hyde Park Demonstration—The Suez Canal—Spanish Difficulty With Great Britain Settled.

NEW YORK, May 18.—The steamer Hansa, from Southampton on the 7th, arrived this evening.

The London Times, speaking of the Hyde Park demonstration, says the public was surprised to hear that the government permitted the demonstration and had resolved not to interfere. The authorities had sworn fifteen thousand special constables, re-inforcement to the military was ordered from Aldershott, cavalry brought up, and a plan of military operations against the demonstration in part perfected, in case the police were inadequate. Forty or fifty thousand people were present, and the crowd was one of the most orderly ever assembled.

The Suez Canal is open for merchandise, and will be open for ships in thirty months.

The Spanish official papers deny that any disturbances have occurred, and say perfect tranquility prevails.

The Malta correspondent of the Times says the Spanish difficulty has been settled, and the iron-clads at Gibraltar had been ordered back to Malta.

The foreign papers are generally filled with discussions of the Luxemburg question.

RUSSIA ENCIRCLING THE TURKISH PROVINCES WITH TROOPS.

The New York Herald's Constantinople letter says: Russia is gradually encircling the Turkish provinces with troops, and large bodies are between Kaiz and Tiflis, while the country between Katz and Erzeroun was scoured by Russian cavalry. There are 150,000 troops at Sebastopol, which is stronger than ever, and Odessa is filled with troops.

CITY OF BOSTON ARRIVED.

Boat Race on the Tyne, Between Kelly and Chambers—The Former Wins—The Fenian Prisoners—Failure of a Large Cotton House—The Czar's Visit to Paris.

NEW YORK, May 19.—The steamer City of Boston, from Liverpool on the 8th, and Queenstown on the 9th, arrived this [illegible] has but little news.

The boat race on the Tyne, between Kelly, of London, and Chambers, of New Castle, was won by the former. Several people were drowned by the breaking of a ferry bridge.

The London Post has reason to believe the Government has decided not to carry out the sentence of the law on Fenians Burke and Doran. The sentence in the case of McCaffrey is deferred until after the arguments on the point reserved. Connolly was convicted and Terrence Kelly, Patrick German and Clarke were acquitted at Dublin.

The Special Commission for the county of Limerick was opened on the 6th, and bills for high treason were to be sent up in that Court against forty-five persons.

One of the largest cotton houses in Liverpool, in the New Orleans and Galveston trade, stopped payment on the 7th. The liabilities are 400,000 pounds sterling.

The London Star says it would be wrong, and even a crime, to execute the sentence of death on the convicted Fenians, and asserts there was more justification for the Fenian rising than there was for the secession of the Southern section of the United States, to which the sympathies of England were so generously accorded.

The Czar is to be accompanied to Paris early in June by Gortschakoff. The palace of the Tuilleries, or the Elysee, has been offered him for a residence. It is said he has chosen the latter.

The King of Greece left Paris on the 7th for St. Petersburg, to be betrothed to a daughter of the Grand Duke Constantine.

The papers contain speculations on the Luxemburg question, which the cable news render valueless.

FROM NEW YORK.

General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church—National Association for Amendment of the Constitution.

Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.

NEW YORK, May 17th, 1867.

The General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church in North America held its regular annual meeting in Dr. Leod's church, New York, on Wednesday evening of last week. Dr. McMaster, the retiring Moderator, preached the opening sermon from Isaiah 60:1. "Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee," after which the Synod was constituted with prayer.

IRISH PRESBYTERIAN DELEGATES.

The delegation from the Irish Presbyterian Church made their appearance on the floor of the Synod. Their credentials were presented, after which they were invited to take seats as consultative members. The Rev. Drs. Denham and Hall, the members of the delegation referred to, then addressed Synod, and gave an interesting account of the prosperity and prospects of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland. The most blessed results had followed the union which had been formed between the Synod of Ulster and the Secession Synod in 1840. The Assembly were doing all in their power to secure an educated ministry, and an increase of salary for their ministers. A resolution was offered reciprocating the paternal regards expressed by the delegation. The purport of the resolution was conveyed to the delegates by the Moderator, as the organ of the Synod, in appropriate terms.

NORTHERN REPRESENTATION.

On reassembling on Thursday morning, certificates of delegations were handed in. Objection was made to the delegation of the Northern Presbytery, because it exceeded the ratio of representation as originally adopted. After a long debate the whole delegation was admitted, inasmuch as it did not exceed in numbers what the liberal construction of the law allows.

ORGANIZATION.

Rev. W. S. Bratton, Randolph Co., Illinois, was elected Moderator. Rev. J. N. McLeod D.D. was appointed Stated clerk, and Rev. Geo Scott D.D. Assistant.

RESOLUTIONS ON RE-UNION.

The following resolutions were introduced on the subject of Union:

Whereas, In the Providence of God, the Great Head of the Church, having removed the principal causes of the separation of the Presbyterian Churches in the United States, holding the Westminister Confession of Faith, and the remaining differences not being of sufficient importance to justify the continuance of differences among brethren so nearly allied, and so cordially united in a common faith, therefore, be it

Resolved, By the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, that we respectfully recommend to our respected sister Churches of the Presbyterian order the adoption of measures for an early organic union.

Resolved, That this Synod respectfully recommend to the several Presbyterian judicatories, now met, or soon to meet, to unite with its in calling a General Convention of the Presbyterian Churches in the United State to meet in the City of Philadelphia, the second Wednesday of September next, or at such time and place as may be agreed upon, for prayer and conference in regard to the terms of Union and Communion among the various branches of the Presbyterian family.

Resolved, That the Rev. T. W. J. Wylie, D. D., the Rev. John McMillan, and Mr. William Matthews, be, and they are hereby appointed, a Committee of Arrangements and Correspondence in regard to such Convention and on the whole subject of Union.

Resolved, That we recommend that said Convention shall consist of one Minister and one Ruling Elder from each Presbytery, and that the several Presbyteries of the Presbyterian Church in the United States be invited to appoint such delegates at an early day, so as to insure a full representation of the entire Presbyterian Church.

After considerable debate the resolutions were referred to a special committee, consisting of a member from each Presbytery.

DISMISSAL CERTIFICATE.

At the commencement of the session on Friday morning, Dr. Crawford complained to Synod that the Presbytery of Philadelphia had refused to grant him a certificate of dismissal, with the view of connecting himself with the Presbytery of New York. The matter was finally referred to the Philadelphia Presbytery, with instructions to grant the certificate, if the request should be pressed.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT ASSOCIATION.

The National Association for the religious amendment of the Constitution of the United States, held a meeting in the Fourteenth street Presbyterian Church, on Thursday evening. Dr. Douglas was invited to open the proceedings with prayer. A series of resolutions were adopted, similar to those which have already appeared in the columns of the GAZETTE. Addresses were delivered by Professor J. H. McIlwaine, of Princeton, N. J., and Dr. Crane, of Newark, N. J.

DEVOTIONAL EXERCISES.

The Committee on Devotional Exercises reported on Friday afternoon. It recommended that the first half hour of the morning session, after the reading of the minutes, be spent in reading the Scriptures, singing, prayer and free conference, the Moderator to name and call to the Chair on each occasion the members of Synod who shall preside.

The following subjects were recommended for conference: On Saturday: "How may those who love the Lord's day spend it most profitably?" Monday: "How may those who walk with God be kept unspotted from the world during the secular days of the week?" Tuesday: "How should the weekly prayer meeting be conducted so as to secure the attendance and co-operation of the largest number?" Wednesday: "How should the Sabbath School be organized and carried on so as to fulfil best its mission both in the church and in the world?" Thursday: "How may Ruling Elders in the Church be most efficient in their office, and most successful as 'helps' to the ministry in their work?"

THE SUBJECT OF PSALMODY.

On Saturday morning, after receiving a few reports, the following paper was introduced:

WHEREAS, General Synod reaffirmed, at its last meeting, the principles of the Reformed Presbyterian Church on the subject of Psalmody, and declared that the one hundred and fifty scripture psalms only are to be used in the public social worship of God; and, whereas, Geo. H. Stuart, Esq., asserted boldly on the floor of this Synod, on Thursday, that he was in the habit of singing hymns of human composition, in direct contravention and defiance of the long established and reaffirmed law of the Church on the subject, therefore

Resolved, That the seat of Geo H. Stuart, Esq., in this Synod, be, and it is hereby, declared vacant.

Resolved, That he be referred to the session of the First Reformed Church of Philadelphia, to be dealt with for a "gross violation of the established order of this church in the use of human psalmody, according to the order and discipline of the church in such case."

The paper was discussed at some length by Rev. Dr. Douglas, Rev. W. T. Wylie, Dr. McLeod and others. On motion, the paper was laid on the table to be taken up at the pleasure of Synod.

Synod adjourned on Saturday at 12 o'clock to Monday morning at half-past nine.

PRESBYTERIAN UNION.

Report on the Subject to the Assembly at Rochester—Terms of Re-Union.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 18.—In the Presbyterian General Assembly, this morning, the Committee on the re-union of the two bodies of Presbyterians reported at considerable length, after a consultation of several days, which was conducted in the kindliest spirit.

TERMS OF RE-UNION.

The preamble sets forth the advantages of sessions, greatly augmenting the strength of the church, and the conditions are that the doctrinal and ecclesiastical basis are the common standards of the two branches; the Confession of Faith shall continue as before, and the discipline of all ministers and churches in the two bodies are to have the same standing in the united body; all churches not thoroughly Presbyterian, who are in organization, shall be advised to perfect their organization, and no other churches shall be received; the official records of the two branches shall be preserved and held as the history of the church; no rule or precedent not recognized by both bodies shall be accepted until accepted by the united body; the corporal rights are to be consolidated; there shall be no single committees for church enterprises. These terms are to be ratified by three-fourths of the Presbyterians of each branch. The terms are to be published, and report made to the general assemblies in 1868. Theological assemblies may, if they desire, put themselves under synodical control.

Hon. Daniel Hayes, Hon. H. W. Greene, Dr. Theodore W. Dwight, Hon. William Strong, and Hon. George Sherwood are recommended as a Committee to investigate the question of the propriety of invested rights, to report by next January.

The report was referred, without discussion, to a committee of nine, to report to the Assembly next Wednesday.

River Telegrams.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette, via Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company.]

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

OIL CITY, May 18.—The Echo departed at 10 A. M. The Petrolia arrived this afternoon. River 4½ feet and falling. Weather clear and cool.

MEMPHIS, May 18.—The River is declining at the rate of one foot every 24 hours.

FROM CINCINNATI.

Old School Presbyterian Assembly—Report of the Committee on Re-Union—General Impressions of the Assembly.

Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.

CINCINNATI, May 17, 1867.

Assembly met at nine o'clock A. M. After religious services the regular business was resumed. The Moderator announced the Standing Committees, the principal of which, with their Chairmen, we name. Bills and Overtures, Dr. Stanton; Judicial, Dr. Howard; Theological Seminaries, Dr. Breed; Education, Dr. Williams; Church, Extension, Dr. Brownson; Foreign Missions. Dr. Lord.

REPORT OF JOINT COMMITTEE.

The report agreed upon by the Joint Committee of the Old and New School Presbyterian Churches was read. It is a very able document, evincing great care and wisdom on the part of those who prepared it. It sets forth very clearly and strongly the desirableness of a re-union of the two Churches, and lays down a plan by which it may be consummated. The Assembly listened to the reading of the entire report with profound interest and evident satisfaction. It was on motion accepted, and referred to a Special Committee of seven. When reported back to the Assembly a warm discussion is anticipated. It is understood that some will bravely and earnestly oppose—some, too, of the older and ablest men in the Assembly.

RELIGIOUS DEVOTIONS.

At 10 o'clock these devotions began, and, under a resolution of yesterday, continued two hours. The singing, prayers, and remarks were mostly voluntary, and were characterised by brevity, and a good degree of appropriateness. The spirit of the meeting was excellent, and its interest seemed to increase till it closed.

GENERAL IMPRESSIONS.

To a looker-on, and one who has no prejudices to gratify this General Assembly, as it proceeds with its business, invests itself with no small degree of interest. The first impression it makes on his mind is, that it is composed of men of God—men full of faith and of the Holy Ghost. They believe in prayer, in looking continually and confidently to God for His presence and blessing. More than half the time, since the opening of the Assembly, has been spent in public religious devotions. Singing and praying, and talking about revivals of religion, has, thus far, been more prominent than all else. God always honors those that honor Him.

A second impression is, that the Church, represented by such a General Assembly, must be a truly Spiritual Church—one that is exerting a mighty power for good in this land. And this is an impression abundantly sustained by facts patent to all.

A third impression is, that the Presbyterian Church is truly represented by the General Assembly. Believes in Special and protracted efforts to secure revivals of religion. To many such efforts members of the Assembly have already referred, and have spoken of them as signally successful. Hundreds have, in some instances, been converted to the Lord, and added to the Church. Several cases of this sort were reported today during the prayer meeting. Another impression is, that the Assembly is thoroughly Loyal, and in a fair way to become radical. It has wisely purged itself of all the old leaven of disloyalty and pro-slavery-ism. The Moderator's sermon had the right ring; it branded rebellion and slavery with a hot iron; and we observed that this branding gave peculiar satisfaction to the Assembly.

A final impression is, that the spirit pervading the Assembly is truly catholic and intensely missionary. It spurns all mere sectarian boundaries, and proffers the right hand of Christian fellowship to all evangelical churches; bids a God's speed to all who love the Lord Jesus Christ. It goes out after the lost and perishing in this and all other lands; and longs for that day when the kingdoms of this world shall become the kingdoms of our Lord and of His Church. God grant that the Presbyterian Church may be made a thousand-fold stronger. VISITOR.

FROM ST. LOUIS.

Philadelphia School Committee Visitors—Woman's Suffrage Association—Failure of a Large Oil Company—Return of Gen. Sherman—An Indian War an Optional Matter.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, May 19.—The Philadelphia Committee on Public Schools arrived here last night, and were cordially received by Mayor Thomas and members of the Board of Public Schools. To-morrow they will visit the principal school buildings, and on Tuesday, after being shown some prominent places of interest in and around the city, they will leave for Chicago; thence they go to Milwaukee, Cincinnati and other western cities.

A Woman's Suffrage Association has been organized in this city, and some of our most prominent ladies have been elected officers. Active measures will be taken both in the city and throughout the State to shape public opinion so as to effect a revision of the constitution conferring the right of suffrage on women.

Report says that a large oil manufacturing company in this city has failed. It is stated that local attachments, amounting to $93,000, have been placed on it, and its property is now in the hands of the Sheriff.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—General Halleck and Staff, and Quartermaster General Allen, have returned from Arizona. Indian depredations continue.

The latest intelligence states that a general Indian war was inevitable. The savages are assembling in large numbers in the mountains, raiding through the valley and on traveled roads, driving off stock and capturing trains. The Indians were notified by the citizens that they would be shot at sight when found wandering among the white men.

Official Account of Negotiations Between the Imperialists and Liberals—The Recent Engagement at Queretaro.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 19.—The following official dispatch was forwarded on the 26th of April to the Mexican Minister in this city, and gives an account of the negotiations between the Imperialists and Liberals in the City of Mexico:

"ORIZABA, April 21.—To General Benevides, Commanding Forces Before Vera Cruz:—SIR: Yesterday a German princess, wife of one of Maximilian's aids, presented herself at the headquarters of General Diaz, asking an interview She proposed the following terms, viz: The disbanding of the Austro-Belgian corps; guarantee of the lives of its members, and permission for their return to their countries. She also solicited a guarantee for the safety of the life of Maximilian. With reference to the first point, the general said he was disposed to entertain such proposals as might be made to him; but as to the second, that he had no authority to pardon Maximilian. Nothing of note is occurring during the day. We have an occasional exchange of shots. I made a reconnoisance yesterday in front of my lines, which has enabled me to take some very useful observations as to the most advantageous manner of attacking the enemy. So soon as our mortars arrive, should the city not have surrendered, we shall open our batteries upon it, and hostilities will be vigorously prosecuted.

[Signed] LIEVA, Brigadier General.

The Austro-Belgian corps has been disbanded, and its members are now under the protection of the Prussian flag.

RAFFEL BENAVIDES,
General commanding in front of Vera Cruz, April 26th.

San Luis Potosi, April 29th.—To General F. Berriozabel, Matamoras: Accompanying reports contain the latest news from our camp before Queretaro. General Escobedo has just informed me that nothing new has occurred to-day. On the 24th Diaz informed me that he was about commencing operations against the City of Mexico from his headquarters, now at Guadaloupe Hidalgo.

[Signed,] BENITO JUAREZ.

CAMP BEFORE QUERETARO, April 27.—Meridan to the Minister of War, San Luis Potosi: The enemy very early this morning threw himself with all his force upon the line of Cimatario, held by a division from Michoacan, and dislodged it, completely occupying greater part of it; but the reserves coming up in time repulsed the enemy, driving it back in confusion to the Central Square, leaving in our hands a large number of killed and wounded and prisoners. The cavalry force of the enemy was routed during the conflict, which lasted six hours. It is now 12 o'clock, and I forward this report to you from the aforesaid line, Cimatario. [Signed] ESCOBEDO.

Camp before Queretaro, April 28th, 11:20 a. m. To the Minister of War, San Luis Potosi:—Nothing new has occurred during the past night. We are engaged in burying the dead, and the field is still covered with them. The losses of three corps of reserves which made the attack is as follows: Cassadores De Galena, 28 men; Supremen Paddes, 13 men; First of the Line, 16 men. The losses of other cavalry and infantry corps which came to the succor of the first are trifling. [Signed] ESCOBEDO.

The following extract is taken from a letter written from camp before Queretaro, dated April 20th: Miramon, having asked for a suspension of hostilities and permission to hold an interview with his former personal friends, Gen. Rocha, and Colonels Routeinez and Galardiit, it was granted. The latter advanced towards the river, and Miramon stood on the bank opposite. He proposed to them an armistice, during which a conference should be held in the City of Mexico, to decide upon a form for the future government of Mexico. The Liberal officers laughed at his proposals, and informed him in turn of the capture of Puebla and the defeat of Marquese, which Miramon was very reluctant to believe.

—The Galveston (Texas) rioters were thus addressed on Friday last by Gen. Mower, when a couple of hundred of them passed his head-quarters, brandishing clubs and threatening to lynch the contractors at the new basin: "If you feel yourselves wronged, you must apply to the proper authorities for redress, and you shall have it; but if you take this thing into your own hands, you may lose what rights you already possess. If you go on with this rioting, by the Eternal God, I will pour grape and canister into you! Now disperse, and go to your homes, or to your work." The mob immediately dispersed.

Paris on Sunday.

Now, allow me to rest a little, and give you a glimpse of Paris on Sunday. The English correspondents tell us that the Parisians do not go to Church—that the Paris churches are almost empty—that the few that do go are women. This seems to be a tradition with the English, which has come down from the revolutionary era, and which is not true now, if it ever was, as they might easily find out by taking a little trouble. The truth is that, though the churches of Paris are of great size, and seem numerous there are not nearly enough for the church-going population. At the large Church of St. Phillipe, which has two large chapels besides the great body of the edifice, and where three services are often going on to as many crowded congregations at the same time, you may find crowds of apparently earnest worshippers at 7 o'clock, and at every hour until the last—the lazy people's mass, at 1 o'clock. There is high mass and sermon at 9 o'clock, and again at 11. Here then, every Sunday, in a church which will accommodate as many as six common sized American churches, you have a series of six or seven distinct services, with as many successive congregations. Why cannot Protestants economize space, and accommodate people in a similar manner? Last Sunday morning, going out a little after 7, I saw people entering a porte cochere near my hotel. Following them, I found an old church, entirely inclosed, and not visible from the street. It was full of people, and a preacher, seated in the pulpit, which is the fashion here, was instructing them in their duties with great vivacity, directness and earnestness. The proportion of men present at this early hour was not large, but there were a considerable number, and among them the parish authorities; who always occupy a conspicuous seat opposite the pulpit. Nearly half the congregation went to the communion-rail to receive the Sacrament. As the mass ended, I heard a full choir of childish voices singing in another chapel adjacent. The congregation had no sooner left than their places were taken by another.

At 12 o'clock I happened to be passing the Invalides. A great crowd was coming out of the chapel, from a service just ended. I went in with another crowd, and found myself in that long and lofty nave, with wide aisles and galleries, hung round with the worn, soiled, torn and tattered battle-flags of half the nations of the world; Prussian, Austrian, Spanish, Italian, many a mere fringe of undistinguishable tatters. Two English flags are conspicuous—no American. France and America have always been friends.

Suddenly there is a roll of drums in the vestibule, word of command, and with drums beating and colors flying, a guard of invalids marches up the broad aisle. They form two lines, and ground arms. Another roll of a dozen pretty drummer boys, and the great organ plays a triumphant march, while a procession of veteran officers, hair and beard whitened in camps and marches, breasts covered with decorations, march up the aisle, and take their seats in the sanctuary. The priest, in georgeous chasuble of cloth of gold, enters, the drums roll, and the mass begins. At the Kyria Eleison a full military band begins to play, and continues with grand effect to the end of the preface. The Sanctus is sung by a choir of men's voices to the great organ. Small bells tinkle, the guard presents arms, and the drums roll out the salute during the elevation. At the memorial for the departed, the bands play a dirge. The drummer boys leave their instruments and march into the sanctuary, where they sing the Agnus Dei, to the accompaniment of a small organ, with responses from the large one. The mass is ended; the drums roll, and all march out to the music of a joyous and triumphant march. The chapel was full, and there was here, as elsewhere, a series of services. Strangers come, no doubt, from curiosity, but three-fourths of the people were residents, to whom it was the most convenient place of worship.

So, walking on in a pouring rain, for it rains every day now, and makes the beautiful gardens of the Exhibition an expanse of mud, I went to the Exhibition, and, in spite of the rain, found there three times as many people as there were on Saturday. The picture galleries, immense as they are, were crammed. All the more attractive parts were crowded. There was a crowd moving around the great circle of restaurants like a procession. Steam was up, but very little of the machinery was in motion. The workmen, like the rest, have their holiday. On the Continent, to enjoy Sunday as a day of rest and recreation, is not to break it. They have more or less conscience against work, but none against play. Should next Sunday be a fine day, the Exhibition will have from 150,000 to 200,000 visitors, mostly of the working classes. The fashionables will prefer the races and the Bois de Boulogne.

Fur Store Robbed—$1,500 Reward.

PHILADELPHIA, May 19.—Last night the fur store of Messrs. Womrath, in this city, was robbed of a large quantity of valuable furs. One thousand dollars reward has been offered for the recovery of the goods, and five hundred dollars for the arrest of the thieves.

—An important discovery has recently been made in Peru, termed the silk plant. The shrub is three or four feet in height. The silk is enclosed in a pod, and each plant gives a great number, and is declared to be superior in fineness and quality to the production of the silk worm. It is a wild perennial; the seed small and easily separated from the fibre. The stems of the plant produce a long and very brilliant fibre, superior in strength and beauty to the finest linen thread. Small quantities have been woven in the rude manner of the Indians, and the texture and brilliancy is said to be unsurpassed.

In the Wrong Box.

Drummers from Eastern Houses are subjected to stringent license regulations in Allegheny county, and must be very shrewd if they succeed in evading the law. Last week an oily tongued chap came hither from New York, burdened down with samples, and proceeded to canvass the town to make sales. He succeeded in selling large quantities to our dry goods merchants, and was congratulating himself on his success in doing a trade without a license, when he was made aware that two detectives were on his track. He hastily departed, and doubtless felt quite smart over his triumph in dodging the "Charlies," a feeling in which he had a perfect right to indulge. The "detectives" on the scent concluded that at night they would seize the "drummer's" body and vile traps, and bring him to judgment. Not being aware of the departure of their man, they called at the hotel at a very unseasonable hour on Friday night and inquired if Mr. —— was stopping there. The clerk blandly informed them that he was, but had long since retired to rest. The "detectives" said they had urgent and important business to transact with him which would bear no delay, and see him at once they must. After considerable parleying the knights of the concealed mace were shown to Mr. ——'s room which they found securely locked. They knocked repeatedly, and finally a gentleman's voice inquired from the inside "who's there?" Detectives both chimed in "us" and told the inmate that they had very important business with him which must at once be transacted. Mr. —— arose, and, in his night shirt, advanced and carefully opened the door, to see who had disturbed his slumbers on such an important errand at so late an hour of night. The "detectives" pushed in the door, seized the half-awakened inmate and told him he was their prisoner. Of course the gentleman struggled and in doing so the stout grasp of the policemen tore his shirt into shreds. The wife of our friend awoke, and frightened beyond measure at the struggle going on, she cried for help and soon a number of persons came to the room. The "detectives" stated who they were and their business, and it required considerable explanation to have them believe that they had endeavored to arrest the wrong man—although bearing the same name as the happy "drummer" who had escaped by the noon train. The "stars" grew dim, apologized and retired. The gentleman feeling how deeply he was wronged, has brought suit against them. If nothing else than as a warning to prevent future foolish acts on their part, we trust they will be at least severely reprimanded. We know not who the "detectives" were, but their conduct was certainly outrageous. Had either or both been shot down as burglars, the law would have justified the act, as they operated more like thieves than police, in forcing themselves into the gentleman's room and laying violent hands on him without a word of explanation.

Youthful Huntsmen—A Wild Expedition Interrupted.

On Saturday evening Chief of Police Scott received from Philadelphia a telegram directing him to arrest two young boys, about fourteen years of age, who ran away from home with the intention of going on a hunting excursion in the Western States. Upon the arrival of the eleven o'clock, P. M., Philadelphia train, Chief Scott arrested the fugitives and brought them before Mayor McCarthy for a hearing According to their own statement, they had resolved to start for the west on a hunting expedition, but, owing to their financial circumstances, they had been compelled to delay till now their Nimrodian scheme. The instigator in the matter was the eldest, named Martin Schanck, son of a wealthy merchant living in Philadelphia. By some means he had succeeded in providing himself with a key to his father's safe, from which he abstracted some $400, the sum he expected would be required for accomplishing their western trip. George Troutman is the name of his associate, who pledged his fidelity to his conductor, and under his auspices consented to follow him wherever their good luck should call them. They armed and equipped themselves with all the material young and inexperienced hunters might think necessary for giving chase to bears, wolves and other ferocious animals. The leader was carrying a small rifle about fourteen inches long, in a very poor condition; his companion a six barreled revolver, old style, rather worn-out and more dangerous to the hand that might use it than the wild beasts it was intended to subdue. A small black bag, carried by each, completed their outfit. They left Philadelphia full of hope, and were far from thinking that Pittsburgh should be the end of their journey, which they had perhaps spent days and nights in reflecting upon.

They were placed in the lock-up to await further orders from their parents in Philadelphia.

Amusements.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—To-night, at this magnificent temple of the drama, Mr. James E. Murdoch, the great and loyal American actor, takes a benefit. The beautiful comedy of "Money," with Mr. Murdoch as Alfred Evelyn, supported by the entire company, will be presented. We know a full house will be in attendance.

BLACK CROOK.—This grand spectacular drama continues to draw crowded audiences, and it is meeting with no more success than the enterprise which prompted its magnificent presentation deserves. The Opera House is reaping rich profits and the play will draw large audiences many nights more.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—Charley White and his very excellent Combination Troupe remain but a few more days at this well conducted place of amusement. The entertainments offered this week will be more than usually attractive. Everybody should visit the Theatre during their stay.

VARIETIES THEATRE.—The "Black Crook" drew a large and appreciative audience on Saturday night. Together with the usually well selected and varied bill of entertainment, it will be run this week.

CIRCUS AND MENAGERIE.—To-day at the Red Lion lot, on Penn street, Haights & Chamber's colossal New Orleans circus and menagerie spreads its tent for a brief season. It is generally conceded to be the best exhibition and combination in America, and those who attend will certainly have a rare treat offered them. On Wednesday and Thursday mornings grand exhibitions of the animals and trained horses and ponies will be held for ladies, children and schools, at which no circus performances will be given.

Leaves for Rome.

In company with a majority of the Catholic Bishops of America, Rt. Rev. M. Domenec, of this Diocese, takes his departure to-day for Rome. The object of the visit is to be present at an important canonization of martyrs of the church, which will be celebrated in June by a council of prelates from all parts of the christian world. The American Bishops will make their visit a special occasion for renewing their love and fidelity to the Pope and bearing to him large pecuniary assistance, as the voluntary offerings of the Catholics of America. Bishop Domenec takes with him over thirteen thousand dollars in gold as the offering of the Pittsburgh Diocese.

28 Cliff Street—Double Dwelling and Grounds.

This beautiful situation is sufficiently known as the most desirable in our City for residence. Its handsome improvements, purity of air, and delightful views, are unequalled by any other locality. Within a few minutes reach of business; its beauty of situation, and spacious grounds, combine all the attractiveness of a suburban residence.

Keeping Infamous House.—Jane Morrison, Clara Fisher and Gus Kirkpatrick, were arrested last Friday evening on the charge of keeping a house of bad fame. An investigation having been made by the Mayor, they were discharged, and Richard Keefe, the prosecutor, ordered to pay the costs. But the next day the charge was brought before the Alderman Lynch, and the case finally settled on defendants promising to leave the premises by the first of June.

The Weekly Gazette, issued to-morrow evening, will contain a review of the Dinsmore murder history of the trial and full report of the execution of Fogler, including his confession entire. Country agents should order at once.

HELMBOLD'S CONCENTRATED EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA is the Great Blood Purifier.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

MONDAY, MAY 20, 1867.

THE movements of Russia, in apparent hostility to Turkey, are reported to be assuming formidable proportions.

THE Courts of Common Pleas of Pennsylvania are each authorized to appoint a phonographer to take down and record the testimony of witnesses examined.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., has 419 manufacturing establishments, employing $12,319,500 capital and 7,928 hands, and yielding an annual production of $27,517,458.

ISAAC B. GARA, Esq., Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth, will please accept our thanks for a pamphlet containing the general laws passed by the late Legislature.

HEREAFTER whenever a balance has been ascertained and determined as due and owing from any corporation to the Commonwealth, twelve per cent. interest will be exacted after the first thirty days.

IT SEEMS PROBABLE that Congress will convene in July for the transaction of business, according to adjournment. The situation of the national finances is urged as a new and weighty reason for this course.

THE Atlantic cable, laid last year, has been damaged by iceburgs grounding on it off the harbor of Heart's Content, N. F. The cable of 1865 remains in good condition. The damaged cable, it is thought, will be repaired without much difficulty.

GEN. MOWER prescribed sharp but excellent medicine at New Orleans, the other day, for a set of scoundrels who sought by violence to deter peaceable and industrious men from selling their labor to suit themselves. Said he, "If you go on with this rioting, by the Eternal God, I will throw grape and canister into you." The scoundrels stood in awe of the punishment they were provoking, and subsided.

THE Legislature, at its last session, passed a law relative to railroad baggage. It provides that each passenger shall be entitled to carry one trunk or box, not exceeding one hundred pounds in weight; that when baggage shall be lost and damages claimed, not to exceed three hundred dollars shall be allowed for each trunk or box together with its contents; that if any person wishes to carry more weight or greater value of baggage than this, he or she must have the trunk or box weighed by the baggage agent before starting, disclose the value that will be claimed in case of loss, and pay extra for excess as may be required by the particular railroad company. Of course, if a man makes disclosure of value, and pays extra, he must be sure to take a receipt, or he will have nothing to show in case of loss.

THE MAYOR OF MOBILE did well in inviting Mr. KELLEY to return to that city, promising him ample protection in exercising the right of Free Discussion. No State concerned in the rebellion will be restored to its former rights in the Union until liberty of speech is reasonably assured throughout its borders. The day has gone by in which it was safe or prudent to maltreat or assassinate men for speaking their minds freely on public questions. Nor will it do to require that Northern men addressing Southern audiences shall bate their breath, modify or conceal their opinions, and pay unusual deference to the local sentiment. For many years ruffian violence trampled out all expression of opinion at the South, except on the popular side. The reign of violence is gone and cannot be restored. If the men of the South are wise, they will not attempt the restoration.

It was specially unfortunate for Alabama that the attempt to kill Mr. KELLEY was made almost simultaneously with the release of Mr. DAVIS, and when Northern men were becoming sureties for his enlargement. His release, conditioned and in form temporary, was highly offensive to a large majority of the Northern people, who thought some expiation was due to the insulted majesty of the laws. At this precise moment, flashed out in Mobile the old fire of the rebellion, cruel and bloody as during any period of the great contest.

WE bespeak attention to the address of the National Executive Committee of the Republican party, which will be found in another column.

It has been objected to the Republican party that it was sectional; that it did not exist in the Southern States. Why did it not? The Democrats, throughout all that region, maintained a system of terrorism against every man who avowed a liking for Republican doctrines and measures. He was debarred from social intercourse. His business was destroyed. He was treated to tar and feathers. He was shot or hanged. This is the only reason why Republicanism was sectional. It instincts, principles and aims have always been national.

In some Southern localities attempts have recently been made to revive the old Democratic practices. In the breasts of some men the former hatred of freedom of opinion and utterance is as lively as ever, and it breaks out in massacres and assassinations. But the ferocity does not, as formerly, prevade the masses of the population. The war proved a stern but wholesome instructor. The enfranchisement of the blacks is swiftly working a social and political revolution.

The time has arrived for extending the Republican organization over the whole country. Upon the Republican Executive Committee the duty of leading in this matter is laid. It has entered upon the work; and now appeals for money to enable it to go forward.

"GEN. HALLECK'S HEADQUARTERS, June 4th, 1862.

"Gen. Pope, with 40,000 men, is 30 miles south of Corinth, pushing the enemy hard. He already reports 10,000 prisoners and deserters from the enemy, and 15,000 stand of arms captured. Thousands of the enemy are throwing away their arms. A farmer says that when Beauregard learned that Colonel Elliott had cut the railroad on his line of retreat, he became frantic, and told his men to save themselves the best way they could. We have captured nine locomotives and a number of cars. One of the former is already repaired, and is running to-day; several more will be in running order in two or three days. The result is all I could possibly desire.

H. W. HALLECK,
Major General Commanding.
Hon. E. M. Stanton, Sec'y. of War."

When the facts came out it appeared Gen. POPE had made no such success, and he was denounced, or laughed at, according to the humor of different individuals. Gen. POPE now denies having sent such a dispatch to Gen. HALLECK. Indeed, he has forwarded to Mr. WADE, Chairman of the Senate Committee on the conduct of the War, a correspondence between himself and Gen. HALLECK, relative to the matter. First, a letter from POPE calling HALLECK's attention to the above dispatch, and asking him to produce the paper on which it was based. HALLECK replied that his papers were packed for shipment to California, but that any statement made by him he had proper vouches for. POPE replied, denying that he ever sent such a dispatch as HALLECK represented, and demanding that HALLECK should make good his statement or retract it. To this letter HALLECK has never replied. In this view of the matter POPE must be held exonerated.

THE BAILMENT OF MR. DAVIS.

Mr. HORACE GREELEY saw fit to become one of the bailmen of Mr. JEFFERSON DAVIS. In so doing he exercised his undoubted right as a man and a citizen. He followed to their natural conclusion principles he has avowed all his life. He does not believe punishment is medicine; or vengeance, curative. Has he a right so to believe? If he has, why are unnumbered vials of wrath broken on his head? Furthermore, he believes wrong has been done Mr. DAVIS in holding him as a military prisoner over two years, he all the while demanding to be turned over to the civil authorities, and put upon his trial. The vilest criminal has rights. If Mr. DAVIS was ten times as bad a man as he is, he would still have the right to demand a legal arraignment and conviction. Punishing first, and trying afterwards, may sometimes gratify popular passions; but it is infamous in itself, and of dangerous tendency relative to the general security of rights.

In coincidence with these ideas, Mr. GREELEY holds that the path to a genuine reconstruction of the Union does not run through executions, proscriptions, and confiscations. He opened his recent speech at Richmond with the pregnant inquiry of the old Hebrew prophet, "Shall the sword devour forever?" Whoever will first banish passion and prejudice from the judgment seat, and install thereon reason and experience, and then read this speech, will find in it much to commend. He will certainly fail to detect in it fair ground for the harsh criticisms pronounced upon it.

We do not accept Mr. GREELEY's theory of punishment, and hence have never sustained his proposition for Universal Amnesty. So far from it, we have steadily urged that Mr. DAVIS and other leaders of the rebellion should be brought to the punishment they deserve. But in this issue between Mr. GREELEY and his assailants our sympathies are with him. Has he a right to his belief, and to act squarely up to it, violating no law? The unmeasured vituperation of which he is just now the object, indicates a settled purpose to constrain him not to act in consistency with himself, but to suit his critics. As friends of personal freedom and manly independence we are rejoiced he shows no signs of quailing before the storm.

Why is he singled out for anathema? Judge UNDERWOOD admitted Mr. DAVIS to bail, and counsel for the government did not object. Not a word is said in condemnation of them. Is personal spite and political jealousies at the bottom of the terrific assault upon him? What has become of all the rhetoric of his enemies in favor of "Free Speech, a Free Press, and Free Men?"

The fact is the government purposely missed the only chance that ever existed, as we view the case, for bringing Mr. DAVIS to justice, when it neglected or refused, soon after his arrest, to order a Military Commission to try him for treason. This, we think, will be seen clearer by and by than it is now. This was the course we desired should be taken; but the Administration was resolved he should not be punished. To send him before a Military Commission at this late day would shock the civilized world. Hence, he has been at last turned over to the civil magistrates. His bailment does not prevent his trial, whenever it shall suit the Judges to call on his case. Will it be called? The current impression is that it will not. Why? Nobody doubts Judge UNDERWOOD's loyalty or zeal. Not a man questions the patriotism, talents, or sagacity of Chief Justice CHASE. What, then, is the matter? It would seem that in the minds of the initiated more than a suspicion exists that in consequence of concessions either by the Executive department or by military commanders a conviction would be frustrated if the trial should proceed, or, perhaps that the jury would fail to agree upon a verdict; in either case leaving the government in a worse attitude than would follow a voluntary relinquishment of the prosecution. If this conjecture is correct, can Mr. GREELEY properly be made a scapegoat? or, rather, is it not folly to do otherwise than face the case as it stands, and make the best of it?

If the journals which display so much wrath, not at the bailment of Mr. DAVIS, but at Mr. GREELEY for becoming one of his sureties, really want him to be tried, why do they not direct their criticisms at the Judges who have power in the premises? at the Attorney General, who represents the government in the prosecution? and at the President, who has both influence and authority over the Attorney General? These are the people who have the decision of the matter. If they say Mr. DAVIS shall be tried, he will be, a thousand Mr. GREELEYS to the contrary notwithstanding. What say you, journalistic vituperators? Do you want the trial? or do you only want occasion to cudgel Mr. GREELEY?

To the Republicans of the Union.

The National Union Committee appeals to the Republicans of every State, for their assistance and co-operation in this auspicious crisis of our country.

We deem it of the highest importance that the Republicans of each State should immediately reorganize for the remaining elections of 1867, preparatory to the coming Presidential contest. Especially should this organization be immediately effected in those States which have never before recognized as the only just basis of government the equal and inalienable rights of man. Not a day should be lost in forming and strengthening within those States a public sentiment in consonance with the principles which underlie the great Political organization to which we belong.

To this end, we desire to prosecute a systematic and thorough canvass of the Southern States, by the most efficient speakers of both races. We would second their efforts by a distribution of documents, enforcing the principles, policy and aim of the Republican party. We would call, in every locality where it is possible, meetings for discussion, where those who are with us in principle may learn to act in unity and energy. These measures are required to bring out the vote of that large body of Republican Unionists who now render the Southern States a battle-field of principle. It is the pressing need of the hour that bold, judicious and able men, thoroughly imbued with our creed, should there explain our principles, establish our faithfulness to them, and prove that natural greatness and human freedom depend upon the permanent triumph of our cause.

Beyond this it is most essential that we should now establish in those States, Free Thought, Free Speech and a Free Press. Every part of this Republic must be open to the discussion of principles and measures. This must be sustained, as a cardinal point in our creed, at any and every hazard. Efforts to intimidate the humble and ignorant voter on the part of the Southern planter, must be met with the spirit of freemen, and the determination which a just cause sanctions.

In time past, the Republican party has struggled against the unjust reproach of being sectional in its aims and character, though its purposes and its means of effecting them were such as the fathers of the Republic approved. It was accused of being governed by selfish motives, and of desiring to aggrandize the North at the expense of the South. Its adversaries, having the power to silence and to crush all opposition, denied all discussion and overawed even freedom of thought in fifteen States of the Union. It is, therefore, now an imperative duty, which we owe to our party and to ourselves, to embrace the first opportunity of truly representing to those States how consistently we have contended for the interests, welfare and freedom of the whole Union.

The overthrow of slavery and the rebellion, and the enfranchisement of the freedmen, rendering this overthrow secure and final, have happily vindicated our course and organization; but it is necessary to stamp the conviction of our loyalty and fidelity to the right, irrespective of section or race, upon the reconstructed States. For the first time in many years, the enthusiastic followers of our flag and confessors of our faith are there taking part in the popular gatherings, and in many of the Southern States we have reason to believe that they form a decided majority. They are, however, without organization, and lack the cohesion and discipline necessary to success. Three-fourths of the Republicans have never voted, and have no practical knowledge of the means whereby the popular will is expressed. With many of them, the habit is fixed, of rendering implicit obedience to able and dexterous politicians who are implacably hostile to our principles and determined on the prostration of our cause.

Our immediate action is therefore imperative. We cannot delay without imperiling all for which so much has been sacrificed in the past. Confident in our strength in the North, the West and the Pacific States, we must not forget that we have a great duty to perform toward the loyal and true men of the South.

REPUBLICANS! our appeal is to you, to carry on and sustain the work which a few loyal and true men have so nobly begun. We cannot ask speakers, in addition to giving their time and talents for months to this labor, to defray their own necessary expenses. We cannot print and distribute documents of the character required, without a heavy outlay. We have no means or reliance except upon the generous spirit of that great party which holds the claims of Humanity and Freedom above all price. The patronage of the Government brought into power by the statesmanship, the courage, and the loyalty of that party, will not aid us in this good work.

We must therefore appeal directly and personally to you. If you are rich, give generously. If poor, send us whatever you can afford. The generous purpose and the noble aim sanctify the humblest efforts. At all events, act promptly, and let us feel that the sympathy of the Republican party is with us in our purpose of making this great land the home of true Republican principles, where distinctions of race and color are unknown, and where Liberty, Virtue and Intelligence form the enduring basis of our greatness and prosperity.

ALL THE WORLD OVER!

There are but few spots on our globe where HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are not known; and, when known, appreciated.

In the United States and British America it has become a household word. As a protective against malaria, epidemic fevers, Fever and Ague, and other diseases produced by miasmatic influences, it stands far ahead of all other preparations, and is so considered by the most eminent physicians of the day.

In South and Central America, Mexico and West Indies it has obtained a firm hold on the minds of the people, and is implicitly relied upon as a certain preventive and cure for the many malarious diseases incident to those tropical regions.

In Australia, Tasmania, New Zealand and adjacent islands, its progress has been marvelous. Merchants, miners, farmers, manufacturers and squatters all endorse it. Thousands of ready has it saved from the pernicious effects of miasma, arising from the low swampy grounds so prevalent in those countries.

In China and the East Indies it is working its way with rapid strides, and is extensively used in the hospitals.

In Conservative Europe, even, its influence is being felt, and the day is not far distant when HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS will become in the old world what it now is in the new—a never-failing joy to the afflicted.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, enabling them to regain their lost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidney of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of Asa Goodnue, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in leucorrhœa, gleet, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and instead of sickening, produces a bracing, healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle; six for $5.

Ask for POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND. For sale by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at DR. KEYSER'S Great Medicine store, 140 Wood street. ap20

QUANTITY vs. QUALITY. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA. The dose is small. Those who desire a large quantity and large doses ERR. my15:MWF

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

MONDAY, MAY 20, 1867.

We have received from J. W. Pittock a copy of the Atlantic Monthly for June.

We are indebted to Adjutant General Russell for a copy of his Report for 1866. Also, to John W. Pittock, (opposite Postoffice) for a copy of Frank Leslie's Magazine for June.

Horses Stolen.—During Friday night last two horses were stolen from the stable of Mr. Sutton, on the Allegheny river bank, in the vicinity of Herr's Island. Very little trace had been obtained of the thieves up to Saturday evening.

United States District Court.—George Weyman, convicted last week for having in his possession counterfeit Treasury notes, with the intention to pass the same, was sentenced, on Saturday, to pay a fine of $100,00, and to undergo an imprisonment in the Penitentiary for a period of three years.

Disorderly House.—Richard Keefe, of the Eighth ward, on Saturday, prosecuted Catharine and Jane Fisher, before Alderman Thomas, for keeping a disorderly house. Keefe, it seems, leased the premises to Robert Gowdy, who sub-let them to the accused. Gowdy has also been prosecuted. The defendants were held for a hearing.

Slight Fire and Accident.—Saturday forenoon the roof of a dwelling on Roberts street, Seventh ward, took fire from a spark from a chimney. Mrs. Brubaker, the occupant, climbed to the roof and extinguished the flame with a bucket of water, and in returning fell over the eave to the balcony, fortunately receiving but slight injury.

PERSONAL.

—Fred. Douglass' income—$6,116.

Rev. Petroleum V. Nasby's income is reported in Toledo at $1,315.

—Charles Colchester, the well-known spiritual medium, died at Keokuk, Iowa, on the 4th.

—It is reported that the prospects are favorable for an increase in the family of the Emperor of France.

—A man at Boston has sued his brother for $10,000 for alleged slanderous words used in a letter to their sister.

—L. Delmonico, the famous New York restaurateur, returns his income at $206,504. The previous year it was $71,617.

—Owing to a memorable interview with Ben. Wood, Hon. John Morrissey does not appear in the income returns this year.

—Mr. Jeremiah Arose, aged one hundred and six years and fourteen days, died near Keyport, Monmouth county, Indiana, last week.

—A man has just died in London who for the past seventeen years had followed the profession of frog-catcher for the serpents in the zoological gardens.

—Old John Bennehoff, the Petroleum King of Bennehoff Run, returned an income of $150,000 last year. This is the largest individual income returned in Venango county.

—Mr. Greeley tells Mr. Weed that if he had his deserts he would long ago have been in Sing Sing. Mr. Weed replies that when Mr. Greeley dares not act the burglar, he turns sneak.

—Miss Lloyd, an English land-owner, has given wholesale notice to quit to her tenants in Caermarthenshire and Pembrokeshire, in consequence of their wives and daughters wearing crinoline, a practice to which she objects!

—Rosa Bonheur, the celebrated animal painter, it is rumored, has become insane, her madness consisting in fancying herself an animal—a goat being the creature into which the great artiste believes herself transformed.

—Secretary Seward finds himself taxed for his Auburn property, at a valuation of fifty thousand dollars. When he purchased it he paid five hundred dollars, but it has since been surrounded by the town. He is enlarging his house there.

—A correspondent of a California paper says: "Mr. Beecher is a remarkably handsome man when he is in the full tide of sermonizing, and his face is lit up with animation, but he is as homely as a singed cat when he isn't doing any thing."

—Bishop Loughlin, of the diocese of Brooklyn, disapproves of the practice of holding festivals and balls in aid of the Catholic churches. He is also opposed to the priesthood keeping trotting horses, and some of them have quit the practice.

—Ex-Gov. Smyth, of New Hampshire, has received a gold-headed ebony cane from two officers of that State, as a testimony of gratitude for aid rendered to New Hampshire soldiers during the war. One of the donors says the Governor saved his life at Gettysburg.

—Robert Bonner, of the New York Ledger, says his new building and land will cost $216,000, and the edifice will be fire-proof. Last year his income was over $200,000. In addition to driving the fastest horses, Bonner has offered to hire a colleague for his parish clergyman at $3,000 a year.

—The London correspondent of the Chicago Journal states: Lord Brougham has just compromised a scandalous case in which he was involved, by paying £5,000, (£9,000 were claimed,) besides law expenses, which will probably swell the aggregate to some $30,000 or $40,000. It is said that some disgraceful developments would have been made if the case had gone on.

—John T. Wheeler, of Seymour, now over 90 years old, has seven grandchildren, fifteen great grandchildren, and two great great grandchildren. He has no gray hairs, can walk his three miles with ease, never used tobacco, never took but one dose of medicine, and never drank any liquor until after he was fifty years old.

—Madame Ristori sailed for Europe last Saturday, taking about $200,000 clear profits for eight months engagement. She has traveled seventeen thousand miles and played in twenty-eight cities. She has enjoyed uninterrupted health, and has punctually met every engagement, disappointing the public in not a single instance and never changing a play that had been announced.

—Marshall F. Harris, of Wethersfield, Connecticut, while on his way from New Haven to New York, was robbed of $5,000 in bank notes, together with some articles of wearing apparel, on Monday night, by a man named Francis H. Lyons, with whom he became acquainted on the steamer Elm City, and who, by invitation, shared Mr. Harris' state-room with him. The thief was afterwards arrested.

—The Tribune's name for the new territory purchased by Mr. Secretary Seward, is capital—"Walrussia." That is one of Sam Wilkeson's latest, in Sam's best style. What a pity it is that Sam no longer works regularly on the press; but since his connection with Jay Cooke made him a rich man, Mr. Wilkinson has grown idle and takes his ease either at Willard's or on his own farm in Western New York.—New York Citizen.

—Miss Catherine Hatton, of Caroline county, Virginia, has lately made the startling discovery that she is the heir of property to the amount of about one million of dollars, in the upper part of New Albany, Indiana. The lady claims that she is the direct and only living lineal descendant and sole heir of George and Ann E. Hatton, who, in 1847, obtained a patent for one hundred acres of land on which the city is partly built.

—Susan Ann McQuinley was a table waiter in Burlington, Vermont, a few months ago. Being very handsome, she was a particular favorite with all the boarders of the male gender. She disgusted them all, however, by marrying a negro cook. Subsequently they removed to Hartford. Here Susan became tired of her negro spouse, and eloped with a young fellow nineteen years of age, son of a contractor in Colt's armory. They went to New York, and thence to Holyoke, Massachusetts, where they were discovered, and Susan was arrested for bigamy.

—Attorney-General Stanberry is a strong argumentative lawyer, with a good voice and emphatic pronunciation, and he gesticulates nervously with his right hand. He is about five feet ten inches in height, and of a slender, wiry build, yet symmetrical. He has a well-balanced head, with perceptive and reflective faculties seemingly equal. His hair is an iron gray, stiff, and parted on the back, and being combed forward over either ear stands bristling and brushy, and gives a rather stern expression to his features, which are symmetrical. Socially he is a cold, ungenial man, with very few friends.

—Gov. English, of Connecticut, is a very rich man, through his own exertions, but of limited education, dull in society, timid in character, and painfully deficient in executive qualifications. He is, however, kindly and obliging, and held such a patriotic course in Congress during the war that his party called him a "moral coward." Physically he is of medium height, with a prominent, broad forehead, side whiskers, a well cut nose, and intelligent grey eyes, that look as if made to see everything about him, and from the corners of which radiate the wrinkles of fifty-five years.

—A Boston letter says: "Some time ago I wrote you of a new poet, a western lady, whose manuscript was in the hands of one of our publishers. In addition to her poetical genius she is endowed with a fine epistolary faculty. In the course of his correspondence with her, the publisher, endeavoring to gratify a curiosity which business considerations must furnish the justification of, delicately intimated that, together with other personal particulars (she being an utter stranger) he would like to be informed as to her age. See how she replies: 'The last clause of your letter dismays me extremely. Must I furnish statistics! Is this the trying ordeal through which all young authors must pass! If so, no wonder so few lady writers survive it. Reject me, too, if you must, but don't make me part with that sacred secret usually so tenderly guarded by all my sex. Or, if a Yankee, please guess it.'"

—There was a funny controversy in the anti-slavery meeting in New York, Wednesday evening. Parker Pillsbury had been abusing Senator Wilson and declaring him "two fold more the child of hell" since his conversion to the church. When Stephen S. Foster, of Worcester, varied the diversion by introducing a resolution in favor of woman suffrage. Wendell Phillips, the President, declared the resolution out of order. Foster appealed from the decision, and told Phillips he was using too much authority, and if the Convention did not pass his resolution he could not stand upon his platform. Mrs. Foster, wife of Stephen J., rose and shook her umbrella at him, and took Mr. Phillip's part, belaboring her worser half soundly, not with the umbrella, but with her ever forcible words. Wendell and Abbey were too much for Stephen, and the Convention voted him and his resolution down. There would probably have been a secession and a new anti-slavery society under Foster, had not Miss Anna Dickenson come to the rescue and poured oil on the troubled waters in the shape of a resolution saying that the Society ought not to dissolve finally till female suffrage is established.

HELMBOLD'S

Concentrated Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla

Eradicates ERUPTIVE and ULCERATIVE DISEASES of the THROAT, NOSE, EYES, EYELIDS, SCALP and SKIN,

Which so disfigure the appearance, PURGING the evil effects of mercury and removing all taints, the remnants of DISEASES, hereditary or otherwise, and is taken by ADULTS and CHILDREN with perfect safety.

TWO TABLE SPOONFULS of the Extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoctions as usually made.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections, by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken, and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, May 17, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as reported by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 136¾; Eighty-one bonds, 111⅛; Five Twenties, 1862, 109; Five Twenties, 1864, 105½; Five Twenties, 1865, 106⅝; 5-20s, Consols, 107⅞; Seven Thirties, first issue, 106⅛; do, second and third issues, 105⅝; Ten Forties, 99⅝; Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad, 72½; Fort Wayne & Chicago, 96¼; Erie, 62¾; Chicago and North Western, 34½; Chicago and North Western prefrd, 59½; Chicago and Rock Island, 88; New York Central, 97½; Reading, 103¾; Michigan Southern, 67¼.

Gold opened strong at 107¼, declined to 136⅞, advanced to 137, and closed firm at 136¾. The shipments being very heavy amounting to about two million and a half. Shipments on Saturday are generally heavier than through the week, since the shipping rates are much lower. Governments are somewhat off to-day, but firm, though the demand is light.

Railroads are very dull and drooping; the bull party is too poor to buy for a rise, and "outsiders" keep aloof. Nearly the entire share capital of some of the western roads is held in Wall street by speculators, and the money paid for is borrowed, and the stock left as collaterals. This accounts for the difference on call loans between Government securities, and Railroad and miscellaneous securities. Should a panic occur in Wall street some of even the wealthier houses would be ruined, and thus the result of five years labor and excitement lost.

Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co:

U. S. Sixes 1881	111¼
5-20's 1862	109
" 1864	105½
" 1865	106⅝
U. S. Ten-Forties	99⅝
U. S. 5-20s, 1865, January and July	107⅝
August Seven-thirties	106⅛
June "	105⅝
July "	105⅝
Dec., Compounds, 1864	116½
Gold	137¼

—The discretionary power granted to the Secretary of the Treasury permits him to buy for cash the August seven-thirty notes, or to give for them five-twenty bonds of 1865. He has also the right, when making exchange, as we have before mentioned, to adjust the difference of interest upon both bonds in currency. The adjustment, as any one must see, gives the party exchanging the seven-thirty for the five-twenty all the gold interest earned since January 1, at par. A gain in another direction is also made. The currency bonds pay seven and three-tenths interest; the five-twenty, with gold at 135, pay 8.10 interest.

—In reference to the failure of the First National Bank of New Orleans, little definite is yet known. It appears that the bank has been in difficulty, owing to the loss some time since of $100,000 on forged bills, and the recent return of cotton acceptances. Nothing of the kind, however, is the occasion of the present suspension. It appears that, for some time, there have been unaccountable irregularities in the sub-treasury at New Orleans. Upon it appearing that there was a discrepancy in the Assistant Treasurer's accounts of about $1,200,000, the military authorities, under orders from Washington, seized the sub-treasury; and as there was reason for supposing that the First National Bank was connected with misappropriations of treasury funds, the bank was seized by the authorities, and an investigation is now being made into the affairs of both institutions, for the results of which the Government must wait. From the connection between the officers of the two institutions, there is reason for suspecting that there has been a grave mal-administration of affairs both in the bank and the sub-treasury and the whole affair seems redolent of official speculation, if not worse.

—The time fixed for the operation of the new bankrupt law is drawing near. The statistics of bankruptcy, under the uniform bankrupt law of 1841, showed that the number of applicants for relief under that law were 33,739; number of creditors, 1,049,—; amount of debts $440,934,615. In the Southern district of New York, an average dividend of one per cent. was paid; in Connecticut, one half of one per cent.; in Mississippi, six cents to a thousand dollars; Illinois, one dollar to a thousand dollars; Kentucky, eight dollars to a thousand dollars.

—The Chicago Tribune, of Friday, says: There is no change to notice in the tone or condition of the money market, and our remarks yesterday are equally applicable to-day. Paper is closely scrutinized, but the right kind experience no difficulty in obtaining recognition. In the open market outside signatures pass at 1½@2½ per cent per month, according to the standing of the maker and the nature of the collaterals.

CORRECTION.

In our report of the Pig Metal market, in Saturday's paper, we noted a sale of Red Bank, at $38, 6 mos. We have since learned, on good authority, that no metal from this furnace has been sold under $40, time. We make this correction with pleasure.

Dry Goods Trade.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 18.—Fair inquiry for cotton goods and the market weak. Standard brown sheetings becoming very scarce and held by agents ½ higher without leading to business; per contra, Lawrence C has been marked down by jobbers to 17; Shawmut to 16½, and Jefferson to 12½. Prints in fair request at decline. Rhode Island prints a shilling per yard, and about the cheapest in the market.

Stock of Grain in Chicago.

The amount of grain now in Chicago, as reported by the various warehouses to the Board of Trade, is 2,256,000 bushels, against 4,010,089 bushels at the same time last year, showing a decrease of 1,754,089 bushels. The receipts of all kinds of grain are light, and stocks will continue to be reduced till the new crop begins to come in, which will not be much before the beginning of July.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, May 18, 1867.

The produce markets have been rather dull during the past week, though there was a fair volume of business, in the aggregate. There has been some few changes in prices, none, however, of any material importance.

GROCERIES—There is a very fair jobbing demand for Groceries, and while the market is fairly active, prices have undergone no essential change. Rio coffee is quoted at 23½c for Roasting; 26 to 26½c for prime, and 27½ to 28c for choice. Sugars—14½c for choice N. O.; 11¾ to 13c for Cuba; 13 to 14c for Porto Rico; 16 to 16½c for hard refined, and 14½ to 15c for soft do. New Orleans Molasses, 95c, and Rangoon Rice 10¼ to 10½. Madison Starch, 7½c, to the trade, and 8c, in small lots.

FLOUR—Is quiet but steady, with a fair local demand but unchanged. We continue to quote at $15 to $15,50 for good to choice Spring Wheat; $16 to $17 for Winter Wheat, and $19 to $20 for fancy brands. Sale of 50 bbls "Ford's" at $15, and 60 bbls "White Star" at $15,25 to $15,50. Rye Flour, $9,50 to $10.

GRAIN—No movement in Wheat. Oats more active and a shade stronger; sale of 2 cars, in elevator, at 66c, delivered; and 2 cars to be delivered between now and the 10th of June, seller's option, at 65c. Corn may be quoted at $1 to $1,05 for prime Yellow. Rye is in demand at $1,65, and prime Spring Barley $1.15. Sale of 1000 bush Rye, to arrive, at $1.67.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet and steady but unchanged—9½c to 9¾c for Shoulders; 11½c to 12¼ for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 15¾ to 15½c for Plain Sugar Cured Hams; 16½ to 16¾c for Canvassed do. Lard 13 to 13¼c; Dried Beef, 22½@23; and Mess Pork, $23,00 to $23,50.

POTATOES—Prime Peach Blows are in steady demand, and we can report sales in store, at $3,25 per bbl. Sales of prime Neshannocks at 90c per bush.

BUTTER—Continues dull but prices are unchanged. Good to choice grass Butter is selling at 18 to 22c.

EGGS—In active demand and higher—fresh packed would probably command 18c per dozen.

CHEESE—Is selling at from 14 to 16c, according to quality.

DRIED FRUIT—As the supply of Green Apples is about exhausted, the demand for Dried Fruit will doubtless improve. As yet, prices remain unchanged at 8 to 9c for Apples, and 12c to 16c for Peaches.

HAY—Prime baled Hay is in good demand, while common and inferior is hard to sell at any price. The former may be quoted at $25 to $28.

OIL—Lard Oil is reported firm, with regular sales by manufacturers at 87 to 88c for No. 2, and $1,10 for No. 1.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, May 18, 1867.

CRUDE—There was not a single transaction in Crude to-day, at least we had none reported, and while the market is dull and weak, prices have undergone no change whatever, and we continue to quote at 6¾ to 7c for spot oil, according to gravity. The sales throughout the past week have been unusually light, there being but comparatively little inquiry either for present or future delivery, though holders refused to make concessions in order to effect sales, being unable to replace their supplies, and consequently prices have not varied much for some time past. According to our latest advices from Oil City, oil still holds up well at that point, being quoted at $2,60 to $2,65, and $2,50 at Tidioute. There may be something in the business to other parties at these figures, but we do not believe that there is anything in it for Pittsburgh buyers, and the best proof of this is the fact that many of them have suspended operations for the present.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was very quiet to-day, not a single sale of any description reported, and there was apparently a little weaker feeling, though prices remain unchanged, with the exception, perhaps, that 31c, it was thought, could hardly be realized for the last four months of the year. Spot oil may be quoted at 26½c for standard white, delivered in Philadelphia, and June at 26¾ to 27c; July, 28c, and August and September, 30c. During the week several "calls" were sold for all the year, at 23c, and $1 per barrel, on board cars here, and 29c and $1 per barrel, delivered in Philadelphia, which is a slight improvement, last week sales of the same character having been made at 28½c. For free oil there is but little inquiry, and the transactions are mainly of an unimportant character. Prime light straw to white may be quoted at 39 to 40c. Cleveland has monopolized the free oil business.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day:

McKenna & R.	200	W. McCutcheon	54

Total	3854
Total Receipts for the week	56,999
Total Receipts last week	66,920

Weekly Review of the Wholesale Market.—NEW YORK, May 18.—There has been a reaction in the market for Breadstuffs as compared with the previous month. The prices of Flour and Wheat rapidly declined. Corn fluctuated violently. Oats are in active speculative request and advanced 4@5c per bushel. Low grades of Flour have been pressed on the market, and almost caused a panic. Speculative holders felt a strong disposition to realize, but could only do so by submitting to a large abatement. Large arrivals at lake ports, and a heavy prospective supply of California flour, have induced the trade to hold off, and the business of the week was very light. The stock is estimated at 160,000 bbls. With a fair supply of most grades at 50@75c lower than last week, the market closes unsettled. Corn Meal has been offered more freely and declined about 25c. Rye Flour declined, but has been quite active. Barley and Barley Malt were entirely neglected and the prices were nominally lower. Wheat declined 6@8c, with a very limited demand from millers. The stock here is 600,000 bush., and a like amount is known to be on its way from California which checks business. Pork has been in moderate request, and notwithstanding large arrivals the prices have been sustained. The principal holders have shown much confidence in the future high prices. At the close the market was firm. Beef improved slightly and the market was firm. Bacon was more active at full prices. Cut Meats sold more freely, and advanced; closing steady. Lard was in moderate demand for home trade. Butter declined slightly. Cotton has been irregular and the prices weak.

Financial Matters in New York.

Gold Closed at 136¾.

NEW YORK, May 18, 1867.

MONEY.

There was a decided easing in money matters toward the close of bank hours, and demand from brokers was freely met at 5@6 per cent. on miscellaneous collaterals.

BANK STATEMENT.

The bank statement on Monday will show an increase of about $1,200,000 in loans, $600,000 in specie, $36,000 in circulation, $1,500,000 in deposits, and a decrease of $1,000,000 in legal tenders. The statement is unfavorable on the whole, and reflects very plainly the fact that the banks have either been buying freely or lending on Government bonds.

GOLD.

Gold closed dull and steady. Loans were made from flat to 6 per cent. for carrying. Foreign Exchange dull and firm.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.

Government Securities were dull and lower. The fact that Mr. Graham's name appears as register on certain series of 1862 coupons, which were supposed completed before he took the office, creates some talk. Coupons of 1881, 111⅜@111½; 5-20s registered of 1862, 106@106¼; 5-20 coupons of 1862, 108⅞@109⅛; 5-20 coupons of 1864, 105¼@105⅝; 5-20 coupons of 1865, 106⅜@106⅝; 10 40s registered, 99⅜@99⅝; August 7 30s, 106⅜@106⅝; June 7-30s, 105⅛@105¼.

STOCKS.

Stocks opened steady, but soon became heavy and lower. Subsequently the market became firmer and closed steady.

The following were the prices at 5:30 P. RIVER NEWS.

The river has undergone but little change during the past two days, the Monongahela marks indicating seven, while the Allegheny marks showed a little over eight feet. The weather yesterday was mild and pleasant, though at times, there were very strong indications of rain.

The Minnie, from Louisville, is due here to-day, and the Kate Putnam and Importer, from St. Louis, ought to reach hear to-morrow. The Argosy left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Friday, and the Ida Rees was advertised to follow on Saturday.

Capt. J. H. Marratta and clerk Eakin, of the Emma No. 2; Captain D. A. Swaney, of the Armadillo, and Capt. T. H. Golding, of the America, left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Friday evening.

The Leclaire and Sherman left St. Louis on Thursday, and the Columbia, enroute from St. Paul to Pittsburgh, arrived there the same day. The Glasgow was at Evansville on Friday.

The towboat Alps and Panther were at Portland on Thursday. The Ajax is lying at New Albany getting a new shaft.

We learn from the Cincinnati Commercial that Capt. Jesse Younker, formerly of the towboat Baltimore, left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Friday for the purpose of contracting for a new towboat for the Cincinnati and New Orleans trade.

The Miner, which was reported captured and destroyed by the Indians, was at Fort Sully, above the scene of the reported catastrophe on the 3d inst.

The Belle arrived on Friday evening with a very fair trip, and returned again on Saturday evening. There were no other arrivals or departures aside from the regular packets.

The Julia No. 2, Capt. Wm. Coulson, with Mr. J. H. Ghriest, in the office, will take her departure for Cincinnati and Louisville this evening or to-morrow without fail.

The Lorena, Capt. Sam. Shuman, is filling up steadily for St. Louis, and will be the first boat out. The Glendale, Capt. Hare, is next in turn after the Lorena.

The Leclaire left St. Louis for Cincinnati on Thursday, and the Bellevernon reached there the same day. The Democrat, of Friday, has the following: The unfortunate J. G. Blackford was sold yesterday by the Sheriff, and a man named Wood, from Cincinnati, made a bid of $1600. We would like to see the man who could be so liberal-minded as to offer that amount for a boat that cost $56,000 some two or three years ago. It is proper to remark, however, that the boat was sold under attachment for somebody's debt; her affairs are disarranged, and the United States marshal has yet to knock her off to a final purchaser.

Capt. T. H. Golding, of the America, is out in a card in the Louisville Courier, in which he pointedly denies having written a letter which lately appeared in the Cincinnati Commercial, reflecting rather severely on Louisville shippers. Capt. G. is a man of veracity, and there is evidently a misunderstanding somewhere, as we do not believe that the Cincinnati Commercial would intentionally misrepresent any one.

The St. Louis Democrat says that the Leclaire is offered for sale. She would make an excellent low-water boat.

The Importer and Kate Putnam left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Thursday, and the Wild Duck and Argosy arrived there the same day. The Importer and Putnam were loaded principally with iron ore. The Ida Rees and Argosy were advertised to leave for Pittsburgh on Friday.

The Ezra Porter and Westmoreland are laid up at Cincinnati waiting for an opportunity to load for New Orleans. Capt. Evans of the Westmoreland, is here on a visit to his family.

The steamer Denver, plying in connection with the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad, was destroyed by fire on Thursday morning at St. Joseph. She was built at New Albany, Indiana, about three years since, valued at $40,000, and insured for $25,000—$5,000 each in the following Cincinnati offices: Central, Union, Buckeye State, Ohio Valley, and Magnolia.

Among the independent resolutions adopted by the Steamboatmen's convention at St. Louis, was one that establishments of light by the Federal Government at points on the Mississippi and Ohio rivers, where dangerous obstructions exist, or where long crossings are required to be made, would contribute greatly to the safety of lives and property. That the hydrostatic test as now applied to high-pressure boilers, is entirely out of proportion in comparison with the amount of steam allowed to be carried, and that thereby, many accidents occur; that a test of twenty per cent. over the amount allowed to be carried, is ample for the protection of life and property.

The Louisville Journal says: The Secretary of the Treasury has appointed Wm. D. Gallagher, the former Surveyor of Louisville, to make an examination of the affairs of the Canal Company and report as soon as possible. Mr. Gallagher left Washington on last Monday for Louisville. The examination will be thorough and exhaustive, and will extend back to the first appropriation for this public improvement. We regret that the Secretary of the Treasury has not appointed a committee of three gentlemen to examine into the Louisville Canal Company—say Mr. Gallagher, from Louisville, and competent representatives from Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. It is an established fact that nine-tenths of the tolls paid for passing through the Canal, is exclusively from Cincinnati and Pittsburgh boats.

The sternwheel steamer Lansing, plying as a packet between Davenport, Rock Island and Fort Byron, when near Hampton, on Monday, exploded a boiler, killing the following named persons: George White, pilot; Wm. Wasselgn, cook; James Tracy, firemen; W. H. Noble, of Burlington, and W. H. Beebe, of Colorado. H. Curtiss, of Dubuque, is missing; supposed to have been drowned. Several of the crew and passengers were scalded. The boat took fire after the exploding, and was totally destroyed.

The Louisville Courier is talking about building a fine boat at Louisville—one that will astonish the natives. In referring to the matter, the Cincinnati Gazette very appropriately remarks:

If the owner of this wonder causes the hull and cabin to be constructed at Madison, Ind., the machinery in Cincinnati, the silverware in New York, the pantry ware in China, the cabin outfit in Europe, and has money as plentiful as Croesus, spends it as lavishly as Coal Oil Johnny, runs the boat in the Louisville and New Orleans trade, she will, no doubt, prove herself possessed of all the qualities claimed by the Courier, and will be a floating monument to the mechanical ingenuity and live enterprise of Louisville and its Citizens.

Among the delegates present at the St. Louis Convention is Capt. D. Hiner, the oldest living steamboatman. It is a common remark that Capt. H. is so old that he remembers the Missisippi "when it was only a creek." Capt. Hiner was engineer of the boat that brought Gen. Lafayette up the Mississippi river in 1824.

An alarm of fire was raised on a Mississippi steamboat lately, in consequence of some German deck passengers having partaken of soup made from the contents of a bag of beans they had appropriated from among the freight—castor oil beans.

It is stated that Josh Billings, the humorist and philosopher, was at one time a Mississippi boatman. He paddled his own canoe years ago. He lived then in Wisconsin or Illinois, but is now a real estate agent in New York. His name is Henry W. Shaw.
